Dear Ms. Karet-Coxen,

This letter is in support of the Nginn Karet Foundation for Cambodian dancers proposal to participate in an educational exchange with The Washington School of Ballet at THEARC, in Washington, DC, USA.

On October 3, Sacred Dancers of Angkor troupe will join The Washington School of Ballet @ THEARC students for an educational exchange to demonstrate the differences and similarities of dance between cultures. We are eager to build on our professional relationships through educational learning to enrich our community and strengthen understanding between cultures.

It is my understanding that you will partner with TWSB School Director Katrina Toews in creating a safe and memorable dance exchange with both sets of students. This will be of no cost to either organization and a mutual schedule will be planned in advance of your arrival in the US. The Washington Ballet encourages new opportunities for its students and we trust that this exchange will prove beneficial for all involved.

We look forward to seeing you in Washington.

Sincerely,

Arthur Espinoza
